Sydney, NSW: Late last month WINAICO, Taiwan's largest solar panel manufacturer was awarded the Top PV Brand Seal for Australia and Germany by Europe's leading sustainability research firm EuPD. WINAICO Australia Pty Ltd launched as a wholly owned subsidiary in 2012. The direct to market move into Australia enabled Australian Installers to receive premium quality products and excellent customer service direct from the Manufacturer.

On being presented this award Managing Director and founder of the Australian branch Blair Pester says, "It is an honour after 6 years of hard work to be an established brand in Australia and have earned this brand recognition and to be one of the top PV Products available in the Australian Market". The fact that WINAICO was awarded the Top Brand PV seal in Australia and as well as Germany is further endorsement of WINAICO's brilliant world-wide sales philosophy.

The Top PV Brand Seal is awarded to companies with outstanding brand management which includes recognition and recommendation of the brand in a highly competitive market. It is a seal issued by EuPD which is a European independent research and consulting firm that annually conducts thorough market research through thousands of surveys across Europe.
